I don't know what kind of lives John McCain thinks that celebrities lead, but this has been mine. We are taking concrete actions to change course. That is not how moral authority is claimed; that is how it is surrendered.

I wanted to be part of something larger. Because the Iraq war is not just a security problem, it's a moral problem. I wanted to be part of something larger. Because the Iraq war is not just a security problem, it's a moral problem.

We will, however, relentlessly confront violent extremists who pose a grave threat to our security. This truth transcends nations and peoples a belief that isn't new; that isn't black or white or brown; that isn't Christian, or Muslim or Jew.

Today there are 12 million undocumented immigrants in America, most of them working in our communities, attending our churches, and contributing to our country. And next week, we'll also hear about those occasions when he's broken with his party as evidence that he can deliver the change that we need. I'll invest in early childhood education.

It's been several months now since I announced I was running for president. And when these battles were overtaken by others and when the wars they opposed were waged and won, these faithful foot soldiers for justice kept marching.

But we do need to remind ourselves that so many of the disparities that exist in the African-American community today can be directly traced to inequalities passed on from an earlier generation that suffered under the brutal legacy of slavery and Jim Crow. It is time for us to act on what everyone knows to be true.

Thereby, the whale commanders are enabled to recognise each other upon the ocean, even at considerable distances and with no small facility.

About

Those who are happiest are those who do the most for the others.

– Booker T. Washington

He was an old man who fished alone in a skiff in the Gulf Stream and he had gone eighty-four days now without taking a fish.

He remembered the time he had hooked one of a pair of marlin. The male fish always let the female fish feed first and the hooked fish, the female, made a wild, panic-stricken, despairing fight that soon exhausted her, and all the time the male had stayed with her, crossing the line and circling with her on the surface.

He had stayed so close that the old man was afraid he would cut the line with his tail which was sharp as a scythe and almost of that size and shape. When the old man had gaffed her and clubbed her, holding the rapier bill with its sandpaper edge and dubbing her across the top of her head until her colour turned to a colour almost like the backing of mirrors, and then, with the boy's aid, hoisted her aboard, the male fish had stayed by the side of the boat.

Then, while the old man was clearing the lines and preparing the harpoon, the male fish jumped high into the air beside the boat to see where the female was and then went down deep, his lavender wings, that were his pectoral fins, spread wide and all his wide lavender stripes showing. He was beautiful, the old man remembered, and he had stayed.
